Stable Population Party 2010 election round-up

The Stable Population Party stood 'independent' Senate candidates in NSW being:
Senate Group T : William BOURKE / Mark O'CONNOR

Given we missed registration by a week, we used the 2010 election to test our strategies and iron out the bugs. It was an excellent opportunity that allowed us to refine our approach and significantly broaden awareness of our brand.

We will be formally registered soon after the 2010 election and will then stand candidates under our party name across Australia in by-elections and general elections.
